ANENT TABERNACLE SQUARE. Talk of Non-Partizan Tieket-Wedding Bells -- Jury List.

Special Correspondence. Logan, March 26 .- A great deal has been said in this city during the past two or three weeks concerning the proposed sale of the tabernacle square There are many partisans on both sides of the question, and varjous reasons are advanced for and against the proposed sale. other hand, that it is imperative that means be raised for the repair and improvement of the tabernacle, interior and exterior, and grounds, and that it would be wrong to ask the people of this small stake to bear this heavy burden when they have so many other funds to maintain. They state, among other things, that it will require $12,000 to repair and beautify the building;

$5,000 for an adequate pipe organ, which s so badly needed, and $8,000 to place he grounds in the necessary condition.

This would be a total of $25,000. The oposition is to sell only the front or est part of the square, leaving a wide entrance to the building in the center of the block. It is believed that $60,000 ould be realized from the sale, and this would leave $35,000 after the necessary repairs are made. The interest on the $35,000 would be used as a fund to keep the grounds in repair, and thus the peo-ole of the stake would also be relieved of this expense. A board fence 12 or 16 feet high would be placed at the rear of the stores, and a row of trees planted close to the fence on the outside. These wo iterventions would effectually shut out any distasteful view. It would be the intention to leave a wide carriage drive between the buildings and the tab-ernacle and park, thus marking the lat-off from the business section.

this way the people could still enjoy the tabernacle, have greater pleasure than at present in the grounds, and be
